

I'm against opening the cap because too much of the information is already in too little of the people's hands, the last thing we need to do is make the clique of those who have access to media outlets even smaller.